CHICKEN

A collection of 18 line drawings of chicken bones, arranged in a grid-like fashion. The bones are labeled with numbers 1 through 18. The drawings include: 1. A long, thin bone with a small, curved end. 2. A small, curved bone. 3. A small, curved bone. 4. A small, curved bone. 5. A small, curved bone. 6. A small, curved bone. 7. A small, curved bone. 8. A small, curved bone. 9. A small, curved bone. 10. A small, curved bone. 11. A small, curved bone. 12. A small, curved bone. 13. A small, curved bone. 14. A small, curved bone. 15. A small, curved bone. 16. A small, curved bone. 17. A small, curved bone. 18. A small, curved bone. The drawings are simple line art, showing the basic structure of each bone. The bones are arranged in a grid-like fashion, with some bones grouped together and others separated. The labels are placed next to each bone, making it easy to identify them. The overall layout is clean and organized, providing a clear visual reference for the different parts of a chicken's skeleton.
